Children's Organic Vitamins

About Us

A few years ago, Jackie and I would give our kids their daily vitamin supplements. To make it fun for them and us, we gave them a nickname: SUPPYS. It didn't take us long to realize the need for a good tasting, quality kids chewable that would be formulated with our own children's health in mind. With over 16 years experience in the supplement business, we felt we could provide a more nutritional product that our kids would actually like to take.

And so will yours.

We worked with many healthcare providers and listened to what they felt was important for every child's health. We did not cut any corners or put in inferior ingredients. All along the way we got feedback from our own kids to make sure they would take it everyday with no hassle. Because what is the most expensive vitamin? The one that doesn't work, or the one your child refuses to take! With that we wanted to share this same product with other families.

What's Different About Suppys?

Compare the ingredients in Suppys to other children's multivitamins.

- 2,000 IUs of Vitamin D3 per dose to keep your kids' bones healthy, improved moods, and strong immunities in all environments*.
- First ever product to have 6 organic veggies such as kale, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, and spinach, because we know kids have no challenge eating fruit.
- We would never compromise giving our kids sugar or an allergy food just to give them the vitamins and minerals they need, which is why Suppys is Gluten, Sugar, and Dairy free.
- After 40+ different kid's taste testings and 13 flavor revisions we scored a 9 out of 10 flavor rating.

- We provide 5-Methyltetrahydrofolic acid, an activated form of folic acid, that improves the absorption of this vital nutrient*. Just another reason why our Suppys line was created with our own children in mind.
