

CANDICIDX

What Is CANDICIDX?

TonicSea Candicidx is a natural tincture formulated to assist your immune function and the detoxification process.*

This detail sheet will walk you through how the herbal nutrients found in Candicidx support immune function and the body's natural detoxification process, which can help protect against Candida overgrowth.*

How CANDICIDX Works

Research suggests that weakened immune function allows for microbiome to become unbalanced in the gut.* Candicidx contains a comprehensive blend of herbal ingredients that were carefully selected to help support immune function.*

The select herbs in Candicidx contain phytonutrients, such as hydrastine, berberine, gingerols, and procyanidins. These herbal ingredients also help support healthy immune function by supporting liver function and the lymphatic system (which are crucial for flushing out toxins).*

CANDICIDX Supplementation

Research cited herein suggests that the medicinal herbs in Candicidx contain beneficial compounds for supporting immune function and proper detoxification through a variety of mechanisms.*
